IROQUOIS RETURNS WITHOUT GOVERNOR

The Iroquois, Captain Rodman arrived off port yesterday about noon. She stopped to give assistance to the Clavering, and after breaking her hawser she entered the harbor with the expectation of securing another and going out to render further assistance, but the Clavering came off before the Iroquois was ready. Secretary A. G. Hawes was the only one of the Governor's party to return. E. S. Boyd is already back, Mr. Gartley will arrive on Saturday, and the Governor and Eben Low will return to Honolulu in a week or ten days.

The Iroquois left Honolulu on Wednesday last with Governor Dole and party for a visit to Lanai, Maui and Hawaii. Leaving here at 7 A. M. she reached Manele, the Gay landing on Lanai the next day at 3 P. M. The party disembarked and rode to the Gay's ranch house about eight miles away. That day and the two following were spent by the Governor and Mr. Boyd in looking over the government lands, and endeavoring to decide whether the land should be leased to Gay or divided up for the purpose of raising sisal. The decision which the Governor made will probably not be known until his return. On Friday while visiting the highest point on the island a number of wild mountain sheep and goats were killed.

Friday evening at 5 P. M. the Iroquois left for Lahaina, and then went to Kihel. The pier at that place was beautifully decorated with flags and flowers and the party on landing were met by a special committee of Wailuku's citizens. A special train was in waiting and the Governor and party visited the mill at Puunene and then continued to Wailuku by way of Kihel. At noon a grand luau was given which lasted the rest of the day. The Governor spoke at the Editor Robertson of the Maui News and several others.

In the evening the party took dinner at the Wailuku Hotel and in the evening a reception was held, after which the Governor went to W. H. Cornwell's house to spend the night. Sunday morning the return drive was made to Kihel, and the Iroquois left for Mahukona, arriving there late in the afternoon. At this place Governor Dole, Eben Low and Mr. Gartley left the vessel. It was their intention to visit Mr. Low's place, and then continue on to the Horner ranch where perhaps a week would be spent in hunting. The Iroquois left Mahukona Monday morning at 1 o'clock and made a splendid run down arriving off Honolulu before noon yesterday.
